Wendy, My Darling

Wendy Darling (from Peter Pan) is flying in to Edinburgh Festival Fringe for the World Premiere of her all-grown-up, not-so-solo Show

Following her return from Neverland, Wendy Darling, now a certified Grown Up, moves to Hollywood to become a writer. This modern take on the classic story of Peter Pan features non-stop multimedia elements with celebrity video appearances by Jon Cryer (Pretty in Pink, Two and a Half Men) and Busy Philipps (Freaks and Geeks, Girls5Eva). Wendy is a charming, potty-mouthed mother to a tweenager who finds herself stuck in a "creative death spiral" as she struggles to stay relevant in a fickle business. Topical, heartfelt and hilarious, Wendy, My Darling is "...a voice for all women who found out hard truths about the real world as they grew up." Orlando Sentinel

Through the lens of a newly middle-aged (and truly darling) Wendy Darling, this not-so-solo show is a playful and laugh-out-loud-funny exploration of storytelling and fairy tales. Drawing on the personal experiences of the three creatives at the helm - solo artist April Wish, Emmy Award winning director Krycia Plonka and musician and television producer Tammy Glover - Wendy, My Darling examines the story of "the girl that grew up" through her journey in the Entertainment Industry as it progresses, regresses and stalls in search of gender equality.

Collecting awards and delighting audiences all over Canada and the US, Wendy, My Darling is magical, timely and timeless and will be bringing some pixie-dust to the Edinburgh Festival Fringe. No, really, you will leave with pixie dust. Second star to the right and straight on 'till... Hollywood!

"This is a beautifully written story about a deeply magical part of growing up..." (...)
...you would be certifiably insane not to see it!" NoHoArts
